The Washington Rifles entertained about 300 guests on the occasion of their excursion to Marshall Hall on the Corcoran last evening.

JAMES FOLEY, a white man, living on Market street, West Washington, was taken very sick at his residence to-day and was taken to Providence Hospital.

The grand larceny of a dog by a South Washington citizen was abandoned in the Police Court to-day by the Government. The South Washington pushcart case was also dismissed. No proof.

JOHN LYONS, a plumber, was tried in the Police Court at a late hour yesterday afternoon on the charge of embezzling $300 from the Becklin Gas Company. The case was held for the Grand Jury.

A colored girl named Nellie Robinson was before Judge Johnson this morning for stealing a silk dress from Mrs. Emily K. Wynans in September last. She was held for the grand jury to answer a charge of grand larceny in default of $300 bail.

The committee on arrangements for the encampment of the Washington Light Infantry at Cape May visited that place last Saturday and were welcomed by Major Edmunds. They selected the same spot occupied by them last year for their campgrounds.

CHARLES T. STEWART, formerly a postal clerk, has entered a suit against the Baltimore & Potomac, Alexandria & Frederickburg, Virginia Midland and Pennsylvania Railroads to recover $30,000 damages for injuries received in the Four Mile Run disaster last February.

An inquest has been held in Alexandria on the body of Sam Johnson, who was killed by James Barber at Drancy's dead animal deposit, in Alexandria County, last Saturday. The verdict of the jury was that he came to his death from a wound inflicted with a pitchfork in the hands Barber.

WILLIAM WHEELER, for cutting William H. Bell, another colored man, was called up to the bar in the Police Court this morning. When called on to plead he caused a laugh by saying: "Ho God, Judge, I ain't guilty, an' I hope God may kill me if I am." It was found guilty, however, and sent down in default of $10.

SEVERAL prominent colored men held a conference in the office of Wm. E. Matthews, Le Droit building, yesterday, to take action in relation to the death of General Grant. Among those present were Frederick Douglass, Hon. John M. Langston, ex-Senator, Hon. Hon. John R. Lynch, and the editors of the Free Press and Advocate. A telegram of condolence was sent to Mrs. Grant. A memorial meeting will be held August 12.

Low Rates of Fare to the Seashore.

The excursion to the seashore by the Pennsylvania Railroad last Saturday was a decided success. All the excursionists were unanimous in their opinion that the trip, while somewhat tedious, was a delightful one. All enjoyed the bathing. The general desire is that these Saturday night trips be continued, and to this end the company has arranged for the second excursion to leave Washington at the same hour next Saturday night. The rate will be $2 to either Cape May or Atlantic City. The delay which was occasioned at Camden to the Cape May train going will be obviated in the next. Tickets will be limited, and those desiring to avail themselves of the low rate should purchase tickets at once. The excursion last Saturday was made up of Washington's best people, and was undoubtedly the most successful that was ever given from this city. The $5 excursion tickets to the seashore will still be sold for the 11 a. m. train on Friday.

The Death Rate for June.

During the month of June, 1885, there were 569 deaths in the District of Columbia. Of this number 248 were white and 321 colored. The death rate for the whites was 22.77 per 1,000 per annum, for the negroes 45.13, and for the total population 30.74. This is higher than the mean death rate of June for the past eleven years by .05 per 1,000 per annum for the whites, by 2.74 for the negroes and by 1.82 for the total population.

The I. T. S. Society.

The officers of the I. T. S. Society, for a time released from business, have gone to the mountains. In the interests of the society they will go to Lake George and Lake Champlain, and make a tour through the great chain of lakes on the north, collecting, on their trip, statistics and information for future use of the membership. By the last vote of the society outside tourists were denied admission.

A Schoolhouse Captured.

James Alexander, William Wales, Mary Hardy, Ella Dickson, Mary Bailey and Carrie Dorey were arrested last night by Officers Volkman, Warwick and Brown for taking possession of the schoolhouse at the corner of West and Washington streets, West Washington. The officers surrounded the house, but some of them escaped. They will probably be tried for housebreaking.

Death of Mr. George W. Paul.

Mr. George W. Paul, whose serious illness was noticed in yesterday's Critic, died yesterday afternoon at 2:30 of consumption in the 29th year of his age. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 from his residence on O street, and will be under the direction of William Louis Schley Lodge, of which the deceased was a member.

A Severe Fall.

A white man, named Samuel Graham, while working on the "dumpp" at Foundry Branch shaft, about 8:30 this morning, accidentally fell and injured his right leg at the knee. He was carried to his home, on Market street, between M street and the canal, and Dr. Suter rendered medical aid.

THE PITTSBURGH REGATTA.

Unsavory Developments Concerning the Principal Participants. The committees of the Annapolis, Columbia and Potomac boat clubs met to-night at the Columbia house.

The Pittsburgh Sportsman, one of the best and brightest sporting papers in this country, has been at work investigating the Teemer regatta and has developed facts that show up Teemer, Gaudaur and others in a very unpleasant light.

In the first heat Hamm was selling at 2 to 1 over the field, though he had opposed to him Gaudaur, West and Ritz, the latter a very promising young sculler from Wheeling.

At the turning stake Gaudaur was a length in the lead and Hamm half a length in front of Ritz. Both Gaudaur and Hamm turned Ritz's stake boat, and Gaudaur turned from left to right, and as Ritz attempted to turn from right to left, he found Gaudaur in his way.

Meantime Hamm got around wide and made for home reaching there first, Gaudaur second. Ritz claimed a foul on Gaudaur.

He then claimed that Gaudaur should be disqualified. He should have been, for turning from left to right, this was not allowed.

In the final heat Teemer only sold for $20 to $30 for the field. Gaudaur won in the fastest time on record. Now, it appears, that the course was short, in the first place and that the men were started three boat lengths before the starting line.

This was done in order that the fast time made by Gaudaur might be an excuse for Teemer's defeat. Again, it was claimed that Teemer and his backers gave out that the full amount subscribed, $2,000, had been paid in, and that the prizes would be paid in full.

He telegraphed George Hosmer at Boston $400 double scull, $1,000 singles, $400 consolation, all money up. "Tell all the boys to come." Now, the actual amounts received by the scullers was, Gaudaur, $200; McKay, $50; Hamm, $70; Hosmer, $50. Young Ritz, who won the local race, and Claytor, who came second, received nothing. Four hundred dollars was paid out. If $2,000 was subscribed, what became of the balance?

The Potomacs have gotten the weights of the light-weight crew fixed at about the figures they want; 128 pounds was a little too low for them. The Annapolians were mostly in favor of 120 pounds, at which weight they would get out a good crew, but they were not unanimous on the subject, and gave way to the Potomacs. At the present weight it is hard to see how the Potomacs can be beaten, and it is highly probable that they will remain for another year the light-weight champions of the river.

Kearney of the Potomacs says that the light-weight crew of the Potomacs would like to row the Washingtons a mile race, but that the club won't let them.

The entries for the national regatta at Boston close to-day with Mr. Gibson. The Columbus are the only local club to be represented.

The Washingtons were very anxious to go, but Smithsonian had not been a member quite long enough, and the club would not enter a crew under any misrepresentation.

The Columbus are, however, very lately to see whether the Washington would enter, and every effort has been made to find out. The Washingtons have gone calmly along, and would not satisfy the curiosity felt.

Baseball. The Nationals defeated the Lagers yesterday in a good game, by a score of 6 to 1. Trot played better the bat and played well. Barr pitched at his very best, and the visitors were only enabled to get five hits off his delivery, while eight of them sawed the air. It was feared that it was too wet in the morning, but the ground dried rapidly and the six or eight hundred people present were well repaid by a short, sharp game. The same clubs play to-day, and it is expected that O'Day will be here in season to twirl the sphere.

Following is the result of the several games played yesterday: Buffalo-Rochester, 9 to 6; St. Louis-Philadelphia, 6 to 1; New York-Detroit, 6 to 3; Chicago-Providence, 4 to 0; Baltimore-Athletic, 6 to 0; Virginia-Trenton, 4 to 2; Norfolk-Newark, 7 to 5.

Some of the New York papers charge that the Detroit, Buffalo, Boston and St. Louis are trying to help Chicago win the pennant. Before such a charge is made there should be some absolute proof.

In speaking of O'Day, yesterday, Bob Barr said that he was a first class pitcher and would prove an addition to the club.

Trott will probably play first base and change catcher when the club is away. He is a good general fielder and can play almost any position.

Barr's contract with the Nationals only provides that he shall play two games a week with the club at home. Some of the local papers are much distressed that he does not pitch often.

Eddie Yewell was in a rather disgusted frame of mind last night. Said he: "While away I telegraphed the full score of the game each night to the papers here, and now when I get back I find that they have not printed a line of it. I have not enough executive ability to run a baseball team."

Mr. Stoddard indignantly denies that he is a "plunger." He generally knows a good thing when he sees it, but that is all.

The Penitentiary Editors not Coming. A telegram was received at Willard's Hotel from Scott Way, secretary of the Penitentiary Press Association, which were to arrive in this city from Fort Monroe in a body to-day, announcing that owing to the hot weather they would defer their visit several days. Among those who arrived on the Norfolk boat this morning were Scott Way, R. H. Gillman and sister, J. B. Clarke and wife, F. J. Couts, and H. Greely Knowles, all of Delaware. They were at once driven to Willard's Hotel which they will make their headquarters during their visit.

An Agent Accused of Untruthfulness. Detective Carter this morning arrested a young Englishman named Frank Johnson on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. The officer states that Johnson has been until recently an agent of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, and since his connections with that company have been severed he has been collecting money due the company. Johnson denies the charge and states that he has collected no money since he left the company and can prove his innocence.

Gray, Seventeenth Infantry, to visit outside camp at Camp Ohio National Guard and inspect the troops, are amended to direct him to visit the camps at Kenton between July 29 and August 3, and Napoleon between August 4 and 20 and 25.

AMUSEMENTS.

"THE CHIMES OF NORMANDY." The features of the performance at Albaugh's last evening was the spirited representation of Scarpia by Miss Beebe and the exceedingly creditable manner in which Mr. DeLange essayed the role of Gaspard. A part devoid of comedy, is a strange one to see Mr. DeLange take, and his performance of the role was entirely unimpaired. The two enthusiastic recalls given him at the close of the second act indicate that the decision reached was eminently favorable. It is not too much to say that his conception ranks among the best that have been portrayed in this city. There was nothing, however, of especial interest in connection with the other characters. Mr. Greathed as the Sheriff showed that he possessed a rich bass, which was heard to advantage in the choruses. "The Chimes" will be given to night and to-morrow evening.

SEEKING FOR SON.—Mrs. Eliza J. Aze was at Providence Hospital this morning seeking to identify the body of the man who was supposed to have been sundered at the steamboat wharf on Sunday. From the published description she supposed it to be the body of her son, who she thought had been taken to New Mexico about seven years ago.

WEST WASHINGTON.

A BURGULAR ARRESTED.—Sinclair Luckett, alias "Scar-face," was arrested on Sunday night by Officers Sutherland and Volkman, for entering the house of Charles Stobenson, No. 2909 M street. He entered the parlor window in the rear, and ransacked bureau, closets, etc., without taking anything. He was discovered by the officers just coming out of the cellar.

OPPOSED TO HIS MOVING.—Mr. John T. Payne and son contemplate moving into their new store on Thirty-second street, between Danburton avenue and N street, sometime this week. Mr. Payne received yesterday an anonymous letter threatening to burn down both his store and Mr. Cox's, who is next to it, if he persisted in moving. The letter stated that it was a colored man who was going to burn them out.

LOGAN'S NEW HOME.

The General Buys a Handsome Suburban Residence. General Logan yesterday purchased from General Miles, the distinguished Indian fighter, the handsome old-fashioned homestead of the Stone estate, overlooking Washington on the northern border from the crest of Clifton hill, the highest point of land in the suburbs. The purchase includes one acre of ground and the terms are $20,000, payable in five annual installments. General Logan will take possession of his new home as soon as he can conveniently do so. Secretary Whitney will take possession of his new suburban home on August 1.

A RACE OF OLD BOYS. Either our young men are growing older or our old men are growing younger. Before the war men of forty and fifty were not classed as young men in this country. They were called middle aged men. But now nothing is more common than to hear of a man of even forty spoken of as a "promising young lawyer" or "a young statesman."

There is a good reason for this change. The average of human life is lengthening, and as the increasing requirements of our civilization grow more complex a man of middle age will be considered young, if we measure him by his knowledge and experience. The real young men of the country are glad to have in their ranks a set of lively old boys who claim to be still enjoying the freshness and vigor of youth.

Victor Hugo and make you and your youth do as an overcoat until we are gray headed.—Atlanta Constitution.
